Was any point in this weekend’s message or portion of Scripture particularly challenging, encouraging or helpful for you?

DIGGING DEEPER

1. In Psalm 100, what was Israel saying to the nations of the earth? By extension, what message does God call us, the church, to proclaim today?

2. What did you learn about the words used of God in the pages of the Old Testament? What meaning and relevance does this bring to your life personally?

3. What is the word of God conveying to us in the flock metaphor? What does it mean that we are the sheep of his pasture? How does the teaching of Jesus also take us to the heart of God in this picture? (John 10:11-30)

4. We are invited to “enter his court with thanksgiving and his gates with praise.” What does this look like as a pattern of life? As a follower of Jesus, how will you respond to this invitation this week? Over the next year?
